UNFINISHED BUSINESS

1. North Royalton Alternative Transportation Study

Councilman Weimer states do we have an update on the North Royalton Alternative Transportation Study. City Engineer Mark Schmitzer is on vacation, but I do have a report from him. Bennett Road sidewalk, he has reached out to ODOT and he is to schedule a scoping meeting to get the next steps to move forward with the project.

2. Service Department Report

Nick Cinquepalmi stated it has been pretty much what we see, it has been pretty mild, snow and rain. So, we are doing both at the same time when we are not moving snow, we are maintaining and cleaning, when it is raining, we are making sure that everything stays open. It has been a mild winter, as we all know. The upside to that, we are in very good shape with our salt usage, we are down about 3,000 tons less than where we were at this point. If it stays like this, it will be nice, it will save on a lot of salt, putting salt down on the roads which then kind of helps the roads get more beat up. So, it is good all around.

Councilman Weimer stated, yesterday it didn't hurt, right. Nick continued stating we were working on sink holes and pouring concrete. We are using every minute. It was beautiful.

Councilman Marnecheck stated droughts are good for infrastructure.

Councilman Langshaw do you remember roughly how much we pay a ton for salt? Nick Cinquepalmi stated we are paying $62.00 and some change.

4. Rt. 82 Widening Project

Mayor stated the update from Mr. Schmitzer they are working on the storm sewer on the north side of the bridge that has been completed, they have now flipped the traffic to the south side as of January 28 and work will begin to demo the barrier wall under bridge. Again, they are moving along because of the weather.

Councilman Weimer stated it is nice now that they moved it to the south bound lanes that they reopened that two lanes coming down Royalton Hill, so now you have a right turn in the street that has helped traffic a lot right there.

Councilwoman Jessica Fenos was just going to ask Mr. Cinquepalmi what the status is of all the mailboxes that got knocked over. Do you have a count of how many? Mr. Cinquepalmi stated about 60 mailboxes, all have been repaired.

NEW BUSINESS
